NVOAD Membership

This appendix includes a current listing of NVOAD member agencies as of January, 1999. For more information on a NVOAD member agency, you may also see the NVOAD home page on the internet at www.nvoad.org. This website includes direct links to all NVOAD member agencies. In addition to these NVOAD member agencies, there are many other voluntary agencies and community-based organizations that may respond to emergencies in local communities. Your local emergency manager or the local American Red Cross can provide additional information about these disaster relief organizations. For more information on U.S. based voluntary agencies that work abroad, see www.interaction.org.

Appendix C

Steps For Developing A VOAD

When it has been decided that your community will develop a collaboration to partner the efforts of emergency management with the efforts of the voluntary agency community, the following steps are suggested. There is additional guidance provided on developing a VOAD at the NOVAD website: www.nvoad.org.

Step 1: Start now. Don’t wait for a disaster to happen to establish a VOAD.

Step 2: Establish contacts.

- Meet with your local American Red Cross Disaster Services Representative to discuss your desire to develop a VOAD. The American Red Cross has Statements of Understanding with over 70 disaster responding agencies. Your American Red Cross may have already established a sound foundation for a VOAD.

- If you do not have a local American Red Cross, make a list of agencies in your community that may be willing to assist in emergency management. From this list, choose three or four that you think would be willing to help you plan an initial meeting.

Step 3: Prepare for an initial meeting.

- Discuss the goals for the initial meeting with your agency representatives.

- Draft the purpose of the VOAD.

- Prepare an invitee list, focusing on agencies that can assist in emergency management.
Step 4: Develop an agenda for the initial meeting. Include the following items.

- Welcome and introductions.
- Introduction of the emergency management program in your area.
- Introduction to the role of FEMA in emergency management.
- VOAD briefing.
- Discussion about the need to establish collaboration, emphasizing the benefits that collaboration would bring to your community. See Unit Four: Working Together for more information on the benefits of coordination.
- Discussion of the roles and responsibilities of the voluntary agency community, local emergency management, and FEMA throughout the entire emergency management cycle. See Unit Three: Roles and Services of Disaster Relief Voluntary Agencies for specific information on what activities voluntary agencies perform in each phase of emergency management.
- Establishment of a Planning Committee.
- Closing remarks.

Step 5: Send out invitations.

- Address the invitations to the senior management of each agency.
- Include a letter explaining the purpose of the meeting and the need to establish a community collaboration.
- Call to confirm that the invitations are received and to inquire about who will attend the meeting.

Step 6: Conduct the initial meeting.

- Ask a representative from the local emergency management agency or one of the voluntary agency representatives to chair the first meeting.
- Take notes during the meeting.
- Establish a Planning Committee to draft guidelines for membership criteria, draft the VOAD's mission and goals, and develop a list of priority issues that need to be addressed by the member agencies.
Step 7: Follow up on the meeting.

- Send out minutes of the meeting to all attendees.
- Schedule the next meeting
- Invite agencies to attend the next meeting.
- Encourage agencies to bring to the next meeting additional agencies that might have a role to play in the VOAD.

Step 8: Convene the newly-formed Planning Committee.

Step 9: Don’t give up!

General feedback, corrections or suggestions for improving AIRIAL can be sent to airial@eurocontrol.int. Abbreviation and Acronym are similar to each other as they both are short forms of longer words; however, they are two different parts of the English language. Following is a full list of important abbreviations and acronyms in English. Acronyms are typically formed by using the first letter of each word in a phrase to form a new word. For example, the phrase "as soon as possible" is often shortened to ASAP. Acronyms are usually written with capital letters and pronounced as a new word. What is an initialism? Initialisms are pronounced by saying each letter separately. Below you'll find lists of commonly used acronyms and initialisms in everyday life. Common Acronyms in Chat and Internet.
