Anne & Scope
JITEE is a peer-reviewed journal, focuses on international economics, economic development, and more, the interface between trade and development. The links between trade and development economics are critical at issue when both fluctuating commodity prices and trade liberalisation and integration can radically affect the economic conditions. JITEE is designed to be read for the needs of international and development economists, economic historians, applied economists and policy makers. The international economists who make up the journal's Editorial Board encourage contributions from economists worldwide.

JITEE aims:
- to publish a diversified range of articles and book reviews in the fields of international trade, development economics, and economic history;
- to promote the use of the journal as a platform for research and teaching.

Notes for Contributors
All submissions should be made online at the International Journal of Trade & Economic Development Manuscript Central site (link to http:mc.manuscriptcentral.com). No new users should first create an account. Once an user is logged into the site submissions should be made via the Author Centre.

Authors should prepare and upload two versions of their manuscript. One should be a complete text, while in the second all document information identifying the author should be removed from files to allow them to be sent anonymously to referees. When uploading files, authors will have the ability to define the non-reviewable version as ‘File for review’ when submitting your manuscript; please upload all of your original source files.

Submission of a second Bhatia, Columbia University, New York, USA

Submissions should be in English, typed in double spacing with wide margins, one side only of the paper, postmarked as A4 size. The title, but not the name of the author, should appear on the first page of the manuscript. Furthermore, to assist objective, the author should avoid any reference to him or her which would enable identification by referees. Authors should normally be as concise as possible. The difficulty and expense involved in making amendments at the page proof stage is negligible. Authors are responsible for obtaining any necessary copyright permission to reproduce copyright material used in the manuscript. Permissions to reproduce copyrighted material must be obtained by the author before submission and any acknowledgements should be included in the typescript or captions as appropriate.

4. Use the Chicago Manual of Style system of referencing which gives the name of the author and the date of publication as a key to the full bibliographical details which are set out in the list of references. All the author’s name is mentioned in the text, the date is inserted in parenthesis immediately after the name, as in ‘Smith (1980)’.

5. Front matter should be used only where necessary, for example to interrupt the continuity of the text. It should be numbered consecutively using superscript Arabic numerals. They should appear at the end of the main text, immediately before the list of references.

6. Submissions should include a reference list, in alphabetical order, at the end of the text. The format and layout should conform to the following examples.

- Book:
- Article in Journal:
- Article in edited volume:

7. For any other matters of presentation not covered by the above notes, please refer to the manuscript style sheets indicated by the last few issues of the Journal.

8. Acceptance for publication is conditional on the corresponding author agreeing to provide a copy of their paper in exact accordance with the conventions listed in the preceding notes. If the final version of the paper is not submitted in accordance with these conventions then publication may be delayed by the need to return manuscripts to authors for necessary revisions. Authors should note that, following acceptance for publication, they will be required to provide not only the final hard copy of the final version, but also a copy on a virus-free disk, preferably in MS Word format or as a LaTex file, if possible. Authors sending in a LaTeX file should also supply a pdf version. Authors will also be required to complete a Publishing Agreement form assigning copyright to the Publisher.

9. Page proofs will be sent for correction to a first-named author unless otherwise requested by the author. Authors should return page proofs to the Editor as indicated by the last few issues of the Journal.

10. It is a condition of publication that authors assign copyright or license the publication rights in their articles, including abstracts, to Taylor & Francis. This enables us to ensure full copyright protection and to disseminate the article, and of course the journal, to the widest possible readership in print and electronic formats as appropriate. Authors retain many rights under the Taylor & Francis rights policies, which can be found at www.tandfonline.com/authors/journals/copyright-positions. Authors are also responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyright material from other sources.

11. Corresponding authors will receive free online access to their article through the website (www.informaworld.com) and a complimentary copy of the issue containing their article. If you have any queries, please contact our reprints department at reprints@tandf.co.uk.
