JITEE is peer-reviewed journal, focuses on international economics, economic development and, more importantly, the interface between trade and development. The links between trade and development-economic crises at times when both fluctuating commodity prices and trade liberalization and agreements can radically affect the economic environment of countries.

JITEE is designed to meet the needs of international and development economists, economic historians, applied economists and policy makers. The international experts who make up the journal’s Editorial Board encourage contributions from economists worldwide.

JITEE aims:
- Theoretical and empirical articles on international and development economics
- Economic applications of trade and/or development issues based on sound theoretical economic models or testing fundamental economic hypotheses
- Models of structural change
- Trade and development issues of countries in Eastern Europe, Asia and the Pacific area
- Papers on specific topics
- Reviews on important branches of the literature

Notes for Contributors

All submissions should be made online at the International Journal of Trade & Economic Development Manuscript Central site (link to http://manuscriptcentral.com). New users should first create an account. Once a user is logged onto the site, submissions should be made via the Author Centre.

Authors should prepare and upload two versions of their manuscript:
1. One should be a complete text, while in the second all document information identifying the author should be removed from files to allow them to be sent anonymously to referees. When uploading files, authors will have the ability to define the non-authoritative version as ‘File not for review’ when submitting your manuscript, please upload all of your original source files.
